

This is absurd! People who pay for satellite radio can get traffic info and weather while traveling that improves road safety and convenience that they can't get in such detail anywhere else! Big broadcasters should mind their own business. They don't do a very good job at anything.